THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things
Political Occurring At Harrisburg

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—(INS).—At least six members of Gov. Edward Martin's Cabinet are regarded in Capitol Hill political circles as possible candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination next year. . . . Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Liven- good, Jr., of Somerset, and High- ways Secretary John U. Shroyer, of Shamokin, have long been men- tioned as possible candidates. . . . Insurance Commissioner Gregg L. Neel, of Pittsburgh, some leaders say, is a "dark horse" in the race. . . . The 52-year-old Neel managed Governor Martin's campaign in Allegheny County in 1942.

The names of three other Cab- inet officers have been mentioned as candidates. . . . They are Attorney General James H. Duff, of Carne- gie, Commerce Secretary Floyd Chalfant, Waynesboro publisher, and Secretary of Property and Sup- plies C. M. Woolworth, Lancaster animal trap manufacturer. . . . Duff, one of the ablest members of the Cabinet, however, was reported by some leaders as not too interested. . . . Last year he turned down a GOP offer to support him for the U. S. Senate in preference to James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh.

"Pennsylvanians face the post- war world with the largest accumu- lation of savings ever recorded in the history of the Commonwealth," the State Planning Board reports. . . . Time deposits in State and National Banks plus Postal Sav- ings accounts exceed $3,000,000,000, or an average of $300 saved by every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth, the Board added.

Gov. Edward Martin has urged local officials to make a prompt appraisal of public needs in the postwar period. . . . "If a munici- pality expects to replace water mains, build a sewage treatment plant, replace streets or make other improvements, plans should be started immediately," the Gov- ernor said. . . . He explained that the Health Department will pay one-half of the cost of preparing sewage treatment plants and the Postwar Planning Commission sup- ply one-half of the funds for the preparation of plans for approved projects by counties, municipalities or school districts.

SUSPECT ATTEMPT ON PART OF "JAPS" TO CAUSE RUSSO-U. S. RIFT; FORESEE A TRY AT SPLITTING OF FORCES IN KOREA

Suspicious of Japanese Commander's Moves—"Difficult Situation" Created at Inch'On Where U. S. Forces Are to Land—Dockhands Stage a Demonstration

By Howard Handleman
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Aboard Adm. Barbey's Flagship

En Route to Korea, Sept. 7.—Lead- ers of an American occupation force steaming toward Korea expressed suspicion today that the Japanese commander there is trying to split the Allied forces who are to occupy separate Korean zones.

Lieut. Gen. John R. Hodge, com- mander of the 24th Army Corps which will begin occupation of Korea Saturday, said the Japs have transmitted a series of messages which may be construed as an at- tempt to cause a Russo-American rift.

Vice-Adm. Daniel E. Barbey, who is leading the Seventh Fleet am- phibious force to Korea, also ex- pressed suspicion of the Jap com- mander's moves.

The Jap commander is Lieut. Gen. Yoshio Kosaki, commander of the Jap 17th Army group of 375,000 men, mostly in the American occu- pation sector of Korea.

In addition to charges against the Russians, Kosaki is blaming most of the unrest among Koreans to Communist agitation. He said that 300 dockhands at Inch'On, the port where American forces are to land, staged a demonstration for more wages, clothing and food, cre- ating a "difficult situation."

The Jap commander's men are armed and have Hodge's permission to maintain order in Korea.

The Japs, Hodge said, have in- dicated that leaflets twice dropped by American planes urging the Jap- hating Koreans to refrain from violence have been effective.

Some observers consider Korea's troubled political scene the most explosive in all Asia, and several underground groups already have emerged.

The Korean surrender ceremony is scheduled for Sunday morning, and Hodge will go ashore at Inch'On Saturday afternoon for preliminary discussions with Ko- zuki.

Hodge will represent Gen. Dou- glas MacArthur at the ceremony and Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid will represent the American Navy. Barbey also will be present.

Kinkaid now is operating a Sev- enth Fleet task force in the Yellow Sea, while Barbey is leading the amphibious force towards Korea.

Ford Production Stops

Detroit—Production of automobiles, trucks and tractors in every Ford Motor Car Company plant in the United States stopped today.

Assembly lines of the vast Ford empire were at a standstill, a com- pany spokesman said. The shutdown will idle 4,229 more employees, affecting workers in Ford plants in other states previously reported par- tially closed or expected to close by Monday.

The Ford situation was a result of the continuing Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. strike, shutting off supply of wheels and drums.

Forty thousand workers, including 28,000 Ford employees, are idle in Michigan. Fifteen thousand more may be laid off by the first of the week. Ford plants scheduled to close included Chester, Pa.

INSTITUTIONAL USERS PANELS ABOLISHED

Bristol Panel Among Those Ceasing Activities Sept. 15th

COUPONS FROM PHILA.

With the abolishment of all Insti- tutional Users Panels throughout the United States, effective Septem- ber 15th, the Institutional Users Panel connected with the War Price and Ration Board 269.1 of Bristol will likewise cease function on that date, it is announced.

The Institutional Users Panel has been handling food ration appli- cations for restaurants, tap rooms, hospitals, boarding schools, etc., and until recent months in addi- tion to acting on the applications also issued ration quotas. The issuance of quotas more recently was cared for through the district office in Philadelphia after passage by the panel here, but in the future all of these details will be cared for at the Philadelphia office. The change throughout the nation is due to the cut in number of rationed articles, it is stated.

Mrs. Harry T. Neher, Radcliffe street, has been serving as chair- man of the Institutional Users Panel ever since its organization here more than three years. An- other member of the board is Mrs. Charles Peet, West Circle, and these two have been aided in their volunteer work at times by Mrs. Serrill D. Dettelson.

The panel likewise has been caring for applications for food ra- tions for clubs and lodges; and at one time also handled the indus- trial files, these including manu- facturing concerns which used in their manufactured articles some foods which were on the ration lists.

All files of the Institutional Users Panel are to be sent to the district office in Philadelphia, and it is planned to have all details closed out here before the 15th, so the panel will cease to function as of that date.

The members of the panel have been serving gratuitously approxi- mately two afternoons a week dur- ing the period of food rationing.

PRESIDENT OUTLINES 21-POINT PROGRAM

Following is the 21-point pro- gram which Congress was urged to enact yesterday by President Tru- man in his message:

1. Unemployment Compensation: Federally-supported benefits of up to $25 weekly for 26 weeks. Extension of unemployment compensa- tion to Federal employees, Merchant Marine and others not covered. Simultaneous increase of the un- employment allowance for war veterans from $20 to $25 weekly.

2. Fair Labor Standards Act: A "substantial increase" in the 40- cents-an-hour minimum wage, which the President declared has now become "obsolete."

3. Wartime Controls: Extension into next year of the Second War Powers Act under which rationing and certain other controls operate. The President hinted at the ending of food and other wartime sub- sidies, and declared he would back the OPA to the limit in holding down prices to the consumer.

4. War Powers and Executive Agencies Reorganization: Legisla- tion giving the President perma- nent authority to streamline and reorganize the executive branch of Government. No hasty action in declaring the termination of hos- tilities since this would cause "great confusion and chaos" among various agencies whose lifetimes are tied to the duration of the war.

RECONVERSION SPEEDS UP

Washington seems to have waked up to a fact which the country has known for three years. That fact is the record of the country's remarkably quick and successful switch over of its industries from peace to war. There was real fear that the Japanese would invade the country. There was real fear that American industrial centers might be bombed by the Germans.

Under the spur of war fears, and with unlimited money, the nation broke all records in gearing to the production of war materials and food. Today the administrators of government agencies which controlled the flow of raw material, the manpower, the manufacturing priorities and transportation during the war have suddenly been lashed into action by another fear.

This is the fear of politicians about what will happen next year if millions of people are out of jobs. To a politician, that fear is about as terrifying as the fear of invasion by an armed enemy.

In removing most war controls on materials and production, the War Production Board practically dared American industry to repeat the war conversion job in reverse. It is not improbable that industrial leaders sent word to Washington that they would set another record if the government would get out of their way.

All the chains are not off, however, for the country is still carrying an excess load of 2,000,000 federal employees and a tax burden that discourages risk capital. Its freedom to build up top speed is also hampered by spite regulations which Congress lacks the courage to abolish. But Washington seems to be attempting to catch up with the country—and that is encouraging.

DOLLAR BUTTER

The whole farm business of this country is propped up with a lot of political fence rails which the Washington boys call subsidies. Some day the fence rails will give out. If by that time the Washington boys have not braced the old barn to stand alone, there will be another farm business collapse, as there was following World War I.

Take the butter prop as one of many examples. If the consumer can find a pound of butter for sale and can manage some red points and about half a dollar in good American money, he can buy the pound of butter. That is, he will think that he has bought it.

The fact, as pointed out in studies of the butter subsidy, is that the price of the butter to the consumer is nearer one dollar. The other fifty cents is lumped as subsidy and the cost of hiring an army of butter subsidizers to administer the subsidy.

The fifty cents that the consumer does not pay over the counter is paid out of taxes and War Bond proceeds. Some day some American citizens will be called upon to pay that other fifty cents. Probably it will be paid by this generation's grandchildren. It is a way people have of living on the labor of their children.

Our Gracious Master and our Father, Thou who hast loved us with an affection far above the ability of our mind to contemplate or our tongues to express, touch us at this moment with a keen consciousness of Thy presence that we may be cleansed from our sin and renewed in spirit.

Bless those we love, O Father, our dear ones at home; our friends and loved ones far away, and may Thy bond of Eternal Love unite us in faith to Thee.

Open our eyes to opportunities for service and fill our hearts with truth and our souls with peace, through Our Lord, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Supplee brings you MORE ICE CREAM

Another "good news" flash on the heels of the end of the war . . . the government has lifted almost all restrictions on the sale and use of dairy products.

That means . . . from now on you'll be able to get more Supplee Sealtest Ice Cream . . . such favorite flavors as vanilla, chocolate, strawberry, peach, vanilla-fudge and pineapple will be available in quantity . . . and you can sit down and enjoy a big dishful at home or at your pet fountain or restaurant, whenever you wish.

And here's more good news from us to you . . . we are going to return to our pre-war policy of continuous improvement. As Sealtest develops new methods for making ice cream, we're going to use them to bring you the very best Supplee Ice Cream you've ever tasted.

So, just as in the "good old days" before the war, you can put Supplee Sealtest Ice Cream back on the dinner menu . . . you can be sure of getting it for parties . . . and there shouldn't be any more shortage of ice cream cones for the children, either. From now on there'll be a sufficient amount of the ice cream that's as pure and wholesome as it is rich and flavorful . . . where you see the red Sealtest symbol displayed.

Mr. Beach had not been well for some time. It is stated, and greatly advanced in age, labored under aberrations occasionally. Members of his family state that at about two o'clock this morning Mr. Beach was of the opinion he was being pursued. They report that he barricaded himself in a room, and then leaped from a third floor window. Death occurred a short time later. Bucks County Coroner, J. Walter Psonak, 38, Ridge Road, Perkase, R. D., was charged by Joseph Steffino, Allentown, with having hit his truck while Psonak was passing him on the road near Sellersville and causing damage to a fender that would cost $25 for repairs. Psonak's car was damaged to the amount of about $2.

Psonak testified, after pleading guilty, that he did not know that he had struck Steffino's truck as he felt only a slight jolt that he thought was caused by a rough spot in the road. He did not stop and was later arrested at his home after he was located through his license number which had been taken by Steffino.

Prison sentence was suspended by Judge Boyer and Psonak was fined $50 and costs and directed by the Court to pay the $25 damages if his insurance company did not do it promptly.

Mrs. Valerie Kean, of Perkase, was before Judge Keller this morning for a hearing, in which she asked that her divorced husband, Charles B. Kean, of 522 Mt. Claire ave., Bethlehem, employed at the Hershey Creamery at Bethlehem, pay an alleged $120 arrearage due her for the support of a young son, Donald Kean, 2nd, aged 3½ years.

Mrs. Kean works part time for a

Quakertown food market. She was divorced by her husband in Northampton county in May, this year on grounds of indignities to the person.

The defendant Kean testified that he has paid his wife $70 since he obtained his divorce. He testified that he earns about 45 per week as an ice cream salesman.

Mrs. Kean testified that the son in question needs medical care because of a rheumatic fever condition.

Judge Keller directed that Kean pay $8 per week to the support of his son, through Horace E. Gwin, domestic relations officer, to be paid to Mrs. Kean every two weeks.

SPORTSMEN'S
BY JOE ELBERSON

Local sportsmen to meet . . . next Tuesday, Sept. 11th, the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will meet in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Walnut and Radcliffe streets, at 8:30 p. m. Several important items of business will be discussed. No meeting of the Association was held during August since the announcement of Japan's capitulation came just an hour before the meeting was to call to order.

Poor opening day . . . last Saturday, first day of the rail bird season, found quite a number of local hunters out in the marshes in search of this bird. And most of the hunters didn't do much more than search. The birds were very scarce. George Wetherill and I hunted the section near Florence Island in the Delaware River. We jumped just four rail birds. One reason for the scarcity may be the fact that the stand of reeds is very slim and there is not much cover or food for the rail bird. Some sportsmen believe that a good "northeaster" will drive the birds up from the coast. Whatever the reasons it was a far cry from the opening day a year ago when a number of hunters came back with their limit of 15 birds each.

Tuna are running . . . in the Brielle section several nice catches of school tuna have been taken by Bristol anglers during the last week. One party came back with six nice ones. I was out of Beach Haven last week with a party of Bristol fishermen in search of tuna but not one was hooked. We did, however, have a very nice day with a total catch of 75 bonita, 6 blues and 1 albicore.

Interesting observation . . . Ray Parker, Hunter Mfg. Corp. official, who resides in Burlington, took it upon himself a few months ago to keep tally on the number of dead rabbits he saw going to and from work at the Emille plant. He stopped by yesterday to tell me that he had counted a total of 25 rabbits killed by autos on just this one stretch of road during the last three months. If the total kill by autos in Bucks County in one year could be ascertained it would no doubt be a startling revelation.

Fished the upper Delaware for small-mouth bass on seven different days during the last ten and took fish every day. No big ones, however. The River has been high since July 1st and is just now beginning to drop. Les Kauffman, Langhorne, was with me when we fished from Dingman's Ferry to Colecton, N. Y. We had our best catch at Milford, Pa., when we took eight bass in a morning of fishing.

Meet next Monday evening . . . delegates from the organized sportsmen's clubs of the county will meet at the Monument Restaurant in Doylestown on Sept. 10th when the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs convenes at 8 o'clock. Chairman Allan Wolf, Morrisville, urges all clubs to be represented. Jack Fetterolf, entertainment committee chairman, probably has something good lined up for the meeting.
